

Reducing your security risk with a visit to Securex 2016

Securex is Africa's leading security and fire exhibition, providing visitors with the unrivalled opportunity to interact with the continent's leading technology and service providers. Boasting over 150 of the industry's best of breed exhibitors, this is one event you should not miss.

Securex 2016 has all your favourite features as well as something different.

New to Securex 2016

- The Ideco Networking Lounge, which will facilitate networking and includes the Business Matchmaking Service, which sees the matching up of pre-registered visitors with the exhibitors that will best be able to fulfil their needs. This allows you to set up appointments before you even get to the exhibition, helping you to make more effective use of your time once you arrive at Securex 2016.
- The Africa visitor competition, where one lucky visitor from Africa can win R10 000 towards their travel to Securex 2016.
- The SAIDSA Tech Man Competition – In this year's SAIDSA Tech Man competition, 20 of the top Certified technicians in South Africa will compete to wire up an intruder alarm system within a specified time according to strict criteria. They will be judged on neatness, correct standards and installation techniques.

Popular from previous years

- The Securex Seminar Theatre – top industry speakers bring you topics such as Bridging the divide between security & risk managers and procurement; and Is your organisation eavesdropping resistant?
- The New Products Showcase (debuted in 2015) – preview hot new technologies in the entrance to Securex 2016.
- The INFIRE Conference – the Fire Protection Association of South Africa (FPASA) will once again be running a full day, paid-for CPD accredited conference. Programme to be confirmed.
- VIP campaign – ask your supplier to invite you on to our VIP campaign. VIP status entitles you to free parking inside the Gallagher Convention Centre grounds, as well as free coffee and Wi-Fi in the VIP Lounge.

Visit Securex at Gallagher Convention Centre from 24 to 26 May and be part of the only security event that offers visitors a strategic combination of best of breed technology and services, trending educational content and the opportunity to discuss and resolve common industry risks.

Beat the queues by registering online at www.securex.co.za.